Women Parliamentarians attend the XV Regional Conference for Women of Latin America and the Caribbean in Buenos Aires, Argentina

The Honourable Elvia Vega Samos, Minister of State in the Ministry of Human Development, Families and Indigenous People's Affairs and Senator Isabel Bennett, Vice Chair of the Parliamentary Women Caucus, are attending the XV Regional Conference for Women in Latin America and the Caribbean in Buenos Aires, Argentina from November 7 to 11, 2022.

The conference is intended to consolidate gender equality in formal institutions in the regional agendas of Latin America and the Caribbean. It includes the importance of the advancement towards legislature measures that address gender gaps and inequalities as well as a parity democracy that enables gender balance in national assemblies and all areas of public institutions (ECLAC, 2022). Specifically it will aim at regulating framework to advance towards a care society from a regional perspective.

All expenses of their travel were provided by the UN Women, the Government of Argentina and ECLAC. The delegation will return to Belize on the 11th and 12th November 2022, respectively. For further information on the event, feel free to visit the link below:
